Tutoring Experience

With over eight years of tutoring experience, I have guided numerous students through the intricacies of Theory of Knowledge and the Extended Essay. My journey began at a tutoring centre in New York, where I specialised in IB and AP curricula. I have since expanded my services to include online tutoring, where I assist students worldwide in mastering critical thinking and essay writing. My approach is tailored to each student, focusing on developing their individual strengths and addressing their unique challenges. I have had the pleasure of seeing my students consistently achieve top scores, with many of them going on to attend prestigious universities in the US, UK, and beyond.
